

Our Company Values

Innovation and Impact

Delivering valuable, impactful science is why we come to work. Every day we use our knowledge and creativity to find innovative ways to improve lives.

Passionate about our work

Our science will change people's lives; we are driven to create better treatments for patients. Our determination, enjoyment and motivation for our work make Isogenica an inspiring place to work. We love a challenge, and we are tenacious.

Learning

Through problem-solving, determination and sharing our diverse experiences, we develop ourselves and each other. As the Company strives to reach its goals, we reach our full potential by gaining knowledge, skills and new opportunities. Individual growth feeds Company success.

Ownership and Integrity

As individuals, we understand the importance of our own roles in the achievement of our collective goals, and we take personal responsibility for our contributions. As individuals and as a Company, we are always professional and honest in our interactions with each other and with our partners.

Working Together

Our diverse expertise and strengths combine as we collaborate to produce excellent results. We know that nobody knows everything, but everyone knows something, and together we know more.

Because We Care

Wellbeing is paramount. We show kindness and a willingness to listen in order to understand. We value diversity and individuality. We believe that trust, respect, fairness and empowerment creates a safe and healthy workplace where we can flourish.
